It's OK to Be Different

April is National Autism Awareness Month, and whether you have an autistic child in your family or you know a family with an autistic child, basic parenting techniques are effective with all children.

Be accepting of your child, idiosyncracies and all. Instead of focusing on how your child is different from other children, practice acceptance. Marvel at your kid's special quirks and celebrate his successes. Your child will thrive when he feels he is loved unconditionally.

Endless Discoveries believes development of the "whole child" includes art, music, dramatic play, social awareness, cooking, outside play, language and math. Our schools are much more than basic daycare. Endless Discoveries teachers provide a theme-based curriculum that is tailored to combine each subject and draws the attention of every child, regardless of his cognitive level.

Parents' Night Out

Be sure to sign up for Parents' Night Out by April 18, so your kids can join us for pizza and fun on Friday, April 19!

Hours are 6-10 pm. The cost is $20 per child, and $10 for each additional child in the same family. All children are welcome, enrolled and non-enrolled, so your kids can invite their friends to join them!

Teacher of the Month

This month we want to highlight our new Younger Toddler teacher, Ms. Mayci. She has a true love for the children and for watching them learn new things.

You can find Ms. Mayci playing, reading or just talking to her class. They adore her!

National PJ Day

Tuesday, April 16

Wear your jammies to class, and don't forget your fuzzy slippers and robe!
