APRIL 2022

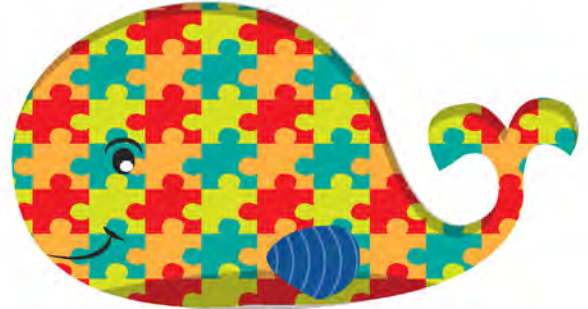

It's OK to Be Different

April is National Autism Awareness Month, and whether you have an autistic child in your family or you know a family with an autistic child, basic parenting techniques are effective with all children.

Be accepting of your child, idiosyncracies and all. Instead of focusing on how your child is different from other children, practice acceptance. Marvel at your kid's special quirks and celebrate his successes. Your child will thrive when he feels he is loved unconditionally.

Endless Discoveries believes development of the "whole child" includes art, music, dramatic play, social awareness, cooking, outside play, language and math. Our schools are much more than basic daycare. Endless Discoveries teachers provide a theme-based curriculum that is tailored to combine each subject and draws the attention of every child, regardless of his cognitive level.

The Easter Bunny is Coming!

On April 15, the Easter Bunny will be making an appearance at Endless Discoveries. Please send an Easter basket/pail with your child. You are welcome to assist us with providing 12 candy-filled plastic eggs.

From 10 a.m. to 11 a.m., Infants, Younger Toddlers and Older Toddlers will hunt eggs.

From 3 p.m. to 4 p.m., Preschool 1, Preschool 2 and Pre-K will hunt eggs.

The Easter Bunny will be at each egg hunt. If you would like a picture of your child with the Easter Bunny, please see your child's teacher for the Easter Bunny Picture sign-up sheet.

Hot Off the Director's Desk

Endless Discoveries believes in continual professional development of our staff. We believe that with continued education and training our teachers will be better equipped with skills and knowledge that will enhance your child's development and learning.

We have five teachers who are seeking to gain their CDA (Child Development Associate) certificates. We are excited to witness their growth!

Student Highlight

Transitioning from a home environment to a child development center can be stressful and challenging, but Hudson is shining like a star. His communication skills have increased, and his social skills are developing as he has formed friendships with some of his peers.

Hudson loves playing catch with the ball and is learning to kick the ball with his feet. Way to go, Hudson! You are doing a great job.
