JULY 2023

National Personal Chef Day

Endless Discoveries will be celebrating National Personal Chef Day on July 16.

We would like to recognize Ms. Debbie for all her hard work and dedication, so we will be devoting not only this day to her but the whole month of July!

Thank you, Ms. Debbie, for all you do. It never goes unnoticed.

Teddy Bear Picnic

Everyone is invited to bring your teddy bear on Monday, July 10, and have a picnic!

Swimming is fun!

Swimming season is here, and we can all have fun at the pool, river or lake, but we should also rethink a few water safety rules.

The #1 rule is to never swim alone. Even adults should make sure someone watches when you swim.

Children should start swimming lessons at six months. It only takes a minute for a child to slip below the surface, so they should be closely supervised. Put away your phone and pay close attention because kids drown silently and quickly, often when they are vertical in the water with their head tipped back. They rarely splash, flail their arms, or yell for help. Intervene when a kid may be in trouble so he doesn't get to the point of drowning.

Talk with your kids about all aspects of water safety. We should teach young children that water can be dangerous, just like cars. Remember that a child can drown in less than two inches of water and that constant supervision is needed for children to be safe.
